LEICESTERSHIRE 2nd XI. v. CHESHIRE

This match marked the opening of Leicester-This match marked the opening of Leicester-shire second XI.'s programme for the present senson and was played on the All-England Ground, Melton Mowbray, on Tuesday and Wednesday. The heavy rain of the previous day had caused the turf to be in such a soddened state that it was not possible to make a start until noon and for a time the lowlers had to make fragment use of sawdins. make a start until noon and for a time the bowlers had to make frequent use of sawdust. Seven professionals were included in the side ofiginally chosen to represent Leicestershire, but G. E. K. Brooks, a member of Leicester Ivanhoe, deputised for Coleman. The visitors had only one professional in their ranks and for some reason L. G. Finlow, one of their selected players, failed to put in an appear-ance.

selected players, failed to put in an appearance.

On winning the toss, A. T. Sharp, who captained the Leicestershire side, decided to have first knock, but as matters turned out he derived no advantage, as the home team were all dismissed before luncheon and the wicket improved in the afternoon.

The first three-quarters of an hour's play only produced ten runs for the loss of three wickets and there were four out for 17. Sharp was batting well when he lost his wicket in attempting an impossible second run. Another collapse then occurred and the side were all out for 49. Wilson, who bowled throughout the innings, sent down 19 overs, 13 of which were maidens, for eight runs and six wickets. Dutton took three for 26 and Hodgson had 12 runs scored off his bowling for no wickets.

Cheshire also started badly by losing Hedg-

Cheshire also started badly by losing Hedgson for one run, but Edmundson, who filled the vacancy, soon became aggressive and knocked up 20 before leaving at 36. He hit three 6's—two at the expense of Bowley and one off Marlow. Meanwhile Lord had replaced Bowley and bowled Parker before he had opened his account. Abell, who had been batting carefully, was then joined by Wilson and they soon put their side in front. The latter, however, was bowled with the total at 71. Two other wickets fell cheaply before Abell and Twemlow were engaged in another useful stand. The latter his brightly for 27 and the century was hoisted as the result of an overthrow. The innings realised 127, Abell being top scorer with 30. Marlow took five wickets for 56, Lord two for 24 and Bowley two for 47.

After startling moderately in their second venture. Lefcestershire made a splendid recovery. They lost the first four wickets for 38, but Riley and Dickinson came to the rescue and when stumps were drawn on Tuesday evening they had increased the total to 74 and were still together.

Commencing they had increased the total to 74 and were still together.

Wilson out without any addition and three more wickets fell cheaply, the total only having been advanced to 100 when Marlow, the tenth man, went in. So well did he and Rowley bat that 53 rups were added before they were parted and when the innings closed for 167 the visitors required 90 for victory. Wilson captured fire wickets for 52. Dutton three for 60 and Edmundson one for two, Hodgson having 87 runs scored off his bowling without any advences.

There was an exciting finish to the match, the result being in doubt up to the very last over. Cheshire lost Abell at six, but Hodgson and Edmundson batted soundly against some good bowling by Marlów and Bowley until Edmundson turned Cheshire also started badly by losing Hodg-son for one run, but Edmundson, who filled two wickets. On resuming, Twemlow, Bardsley and Wilson were soon out, but two wickets. Bardsley and Wilson were soon out, but Hodgson and Dutton were batting confidently when the latter displaced a cartilege of his knee and had to retire. Parker only scored two before being bowled, then play was stopped for two hours by rain. Subsequently McIntyre left after scoring six and 18 runs were needed for victory when Pearson, the last man, went in. When ten of these had been obtained Hodgson, who had batted well throughout the innings, made a tremendous hit to square-leg and was brilliantly caught by Sharp. The innings thus closed for 82, Leicestershire winning by seven runs. Marlow and Bowley both took four wickets
